Funds Performance Report NOVEMBER 2015

IGI Life Insurance Limited

Macro Review and Outlook:

The State Bank of Pakistan maintained policy rate at 6% in the month of November. The inflationary outlook for the second half of 2016 along with uncertain currency dynamics amid Macro global economic weakness remained the key reasons for the measured stance of SBP.

Consumer Price Index (CPI) registered an increase of 2.73% YoY for the month of November 2015 in line with consensus estimates. The base effect theme is coming into play with each passing month. The lower base is expected to further fuel inflationary pressures with our expectation for December 2015 clocking at around 4%. The uptick in inflation is expected to pick up with inflation to average 5.3%-5.5% for second half of 2016.

FX reserves increased further due to improved Current Account flows and are approaching close to USD 20 bn. Exports have declined to USD 7.2 billion for the first four months of 2016 registering a decline of 11%, falling prey to weak global demand.

With inflation expected to rise further on the back of low base effect phenomenon from December onwards, the gap between the prevalent policy rate and inflation could narrow down significantly. This coupled with a stressed Pak Rupee signals an end to the monetary easing cycle in Pakistan. Having said that, monetary tightening is unlikely as low global commodity prices could keep inflation at low levels in the

Equity Market Review and Outlook:

After posting a phenomenal return of 6.1% over October, the KSE-100 index slipped by 5.9% (approximately 2,000 points) in Nov'15 owing to foreign selling, regulatory enquiries and ongoing investigation into former office bearers. The volumes remained sluggishly flat (down 1% MoM) at 171 mn partly hampered by enforcement of client segregation rules. Subsequently, the market participants weren't able to absorb foreign selling to the tune of USD 53 mn by foreign funds which are hit hard by redemption pressures. Interestingly, all classes of domestic investors remained net buyers during month with NBFC leading to absorb foreign selling pressures.

Apprehensions about Fed rate hike in December FOMC meeting, 10% fall in crude oil prices and rumored agreement between IMF and Pakistan for another gas price hike in Jan'16 also weakened investor sentiments during the month. The recent underperformance of the market has further opened up valuations. Banking sector is expected to come into lime light with Consumer Price Index expected to inch up to 4.1% in December 2015. Infrastructure plays, Cement and Steel are also expected to gain momentum once concerns on pricing discipline for the former and weak international steel prices for the latter are subsided. Power sector is expected to play the theme of new expansion projects.

While law & order situation and macroeconomic indicators are undoubtedly showing signs of improvement – political, regulatory and external commodity shocks may keep investor sentiments, both foreign and local, in check. In this context, volumes are expected to remain flat, while foreign selling is expected to

Money Market Review and Outlook:

The State Bank of Pakistan left the discount rate / target rate unchanged at 6.5% / 6.0% in the monetary policy held on November 21, 2015. The decision can be attributed to (i) end of disinflation and resultant reversal in CPI and (ii) an under-pressure Pak Rupee which has depreciated by 4.2% over FY16TD. Early part of the month saw aggressive secondary market participation which drove down the yield curve to price in another cut however the yields could not sustain with the expectations of potentially higher inflation in the second half of the year thus bond prices oscillated from pricing a cut to a potential increase in the upcoming quarters. Outlook on Oil Prices, Inflation and Exchange rate continued to affect the overall market activity and the calls on the Interest rate direction. Observing current market dynamics it is highly anticipated that market will keep on seeking short term avenues and will offload long tenor bonds as opportunity arises, which is evident by observing participation in last treasury bill auction, where major interest was witnessed in 3M Tenor (76%) as compare to 6M (23%) and 12M Tenor (1%).
